Size: 17x24 cm
Price: Euro 15,00
ISBN: 9788863951264
 EC 11782

This is a concise and easy-to-use book to help us understand the language of music. It explains its fundamental principles and gives readers the keys to active and intelligent listening. What are rhythm, dynamics, the character of a piece of music, the timbre of an instrument and how can we recognise them in a composition? And how about the melody, harmony and style of a musical work? What makes Bach's music different from Beethoven's? What are the characteristics of their work and which forms were preferred in their eras? And how has musical language evolved?

Inside the Music answers these and many other questions with clear and straightforward explanations supported by a wealth of musical excerpts in order to help you identify the concepts you have learnt in the music itself.

A unique text with an audio CD for structuring an educational course on musical perceptions.

Rhythm, melody, and harmony are tackled separately, but connections are also made between them for a complete comprehension of the musical language.

The approach is gradual and progressive, based on listening and aural comparisons and reinforced through activities and tests. All the exercises and the perceptive activities are provided in the enclosed audio CD. Supplemental materials are available online.

Music Touristic Guide

AROUND MILAN WITH GIUSEPPE VERDI Guide to discover the Maestro's city

Author: Giancarla Moscatelli
Pages: 200
Size: 17x24 cm
Full-colour illustrated book
Price: Euro 21,00
 (Book+Audio CD)
ISBN: 9788863951448
 EC 30006

Perhaps there is no stronger association in the history of music between a composer and a city than Verdi's relationship with Milan. Around Milan with Giuseppe Verdi is a 'music-tourist' guide which locates the compelling, often turbulent narrative of Verdi's life within the geographical and historical context of Milan itself. The suggested pedestrian itineraries further enhance this remarkably vivid insight into the composer's life in this great city.

The enclosed CD features a great selection of the most beautiful Verdi's arias.

Violin

THE VIOLINIST Art, mastery and mysteries of the violin

Author: Antonio Bonacchi
Target: string instrument players of any level, students, teachers, music-lovers, performers
Pages: 240
Size: 17x24 cm
Full-colour illustrated book
Price: Euro 19,00
ISBN: 9788863951196
 EC 11777

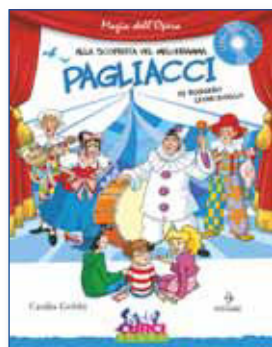

A playful title for a seriously thought-out content – a wealth of hands-on information for any string player. Packed with everything an instrumentalist should know but school programmes are often afraid to teach, this book combines instructions on proper daily handling and caring for the violin with invaluable tips and tricks meant to make the performer's life easier.

Written with infectious enthusiasm by an expert in the subject and enriched with an impressive collection of illustrations (over 350), this is an essential book for instrumentalists of all levels (students, professionals, amateurs). Thanks to the variety of topics covered and its almost narrative style, it will also be enjoyed by all music-lovers and fans of string instruments.

 Carlo Mormile
Target: beginning violinists
Pages: 64
Size: 21x29,7
Price: Euro 16,00 (Book+Audio CD)
ISMN: 9790215905719
 EC 11808

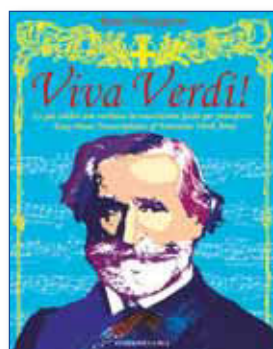

Alighiero's travels is a collection of simple songs and popular folk tunes, all in first position.

From Brazil to Bulgaria, from Korea to Mexico, through Jamaica and Italy, one can move to the rhythm of a tango or a Balkan dance and discover folk music and ritual songs.

The variety of melodies and rhythms proposed in the pieces, in their simplicity and accessibility, allows young students to deal with a particularly rich and original sound environment. The audio CD contains the backing tracks arranged in a modern and original style. Thanks to the minus one system it is possible to exclude each of the two violins by simply rotating the balance dial (to the left to listen to violin 1st only, or to the right to listen to violin 2nd only). This allows a single musician to play in duet.

The Music Learning Theory of Edwin E. Gordon (South Carolina University, USA) is the result of almost fifty years' scientific observations and research by its originator in the USA. It describes the way in which children find out about music from a very early age and is based on the assumption that music can be learnt by processes similar to those whereby language is learned. Parallel to studies on musical aptitude and the capacity for audiation, which form the theoretical basis of the MLT, a methodology was developed which applies its principles, introducing several major new ideas into the field of musical education. The main aim of Gordon's Music Learning Theory is that of encouraging development of the musical aptitude of each child according to his or her potential, attitude and above all stage in life.

ASCOLTA CON LUI, CANTA PER LUI (Listen with him and sing for him)

Practical guide to developing musicality in children up to the age of five.
For parents and educators at preschool facilities.

Authors: Edwin E. Gordon, Andrea Apostoli

Target: parents and teachers of children up to the age of six

Pages: 56 - Size: 17x24 cm

Price: Euro 16.00

ISBN: 9788863950458

EC 11525

- The first introductory guide to the Music Learning Theory of E. E. Gordon, written for those without specific musical skills.
- For understanding the mode and stages of music learning in children from birth and for understanding how to follow and support development through the creation of a musically stimulating environment (at home and in preschool education) and an educational course that respects the child's potential and progress naturally and without forcing.
- The CD included contains songs without words performed unaccompanied by the Gordon ensemble and composed according to the principles of the Music Learning Theory. Given their characteristics of brevity and rhythmic, melodic and harmonic variety they encourage the development of musical aptitude in young children. This is listening material available to parents and teachers who can finally count on a musical repertoire composed specifically for these purposes.

CANTI MELODICI E RITMICI SENZA PAROLE (Melodic and rhythmic songs without words)

MA CHE MUSICA! (What great music!)

Classical music and jazz pieces in pictures and music, based on the Music Learning Theory of Edwin E. Gordon

Author: Andrea Apostoli

Target: Children up to 5 years, parents, nursery school teachers

Pages: 48 - Size: 12x12 cm

Price: Euro 15.00

Three small illustrated volumes for children up to the age of six. Each page is dedicated to a piece of music, also included in the audio CD supplied and taken from the classical or jazz repertoire. An original illustration on every page depicts the piece and a brief introductory sentence describes its features and the instruments on which it is performed. The included pieces were selected to provide a set of highly varied musical stimuli which serve to develop musicality in children.

In the audio CDs: 40 minutes of music chosen from the great classical and jazz repertoire. Short pieces with a vast variety of styles guarantee children's interest and are very enjoyable listening for adults too.

An introduction provides parents and educators with suggestions and advice on how to use the books and CD with children for creative and listening activities.

THE EDUCATIONAL PART

The educational part is structured in a dialogue between the narrator and the musical accompaniment.

The narrator explains in a very simple way the main features of jazz music while the quartet accompanies him with simple examples.

Polyrhythm, improvisation, ensemble music, melody and harmony are only some of the musical concepts that are explained interactively and like a game.

Che lavoro fai? IL VIOLINISTA.....
Sì, ma di lavoro vero?
Arte, mestiere, misteri del violino
(What do you do? I am a violinist Ok, but what's your real job?
Art, mastery and mysteries of the violin)

Author: Antonio Bonacchi

Target: string instruments players of any level,
students, teachers, music lovers, performers

Pages: 240 - Size: 17x24 cm

Price: Euro 21,00

ISBN: 9788863951196

EC 11777

This is a playful title for a serious and complete series, full of useful information for someone who plays. It has everything musicians (who play the violin, viola, cello or double bass) should know, and that Conservatories have no way of teaching, on the management of the instrument during daily playing as well as a wide set of solutions and suggestions to make the performer's life easier.

The topics covered include:
the violin: history, naming, character and detailed description;
the bow and bow hairs: origins, composition, construction, finishing, and restoration; hairing bows and its dangers, changing the horsehair, maintenance;
the strings: interesting facts, how to choose them, stringing and maintaining;
in the case: a professional's accessories and components;
maintaining and cleaning the instrument;
academic and real-intonation tuning;
suggestions for studying, guidelines for working;

emergency tricks and solutions, simple remedies to real problems; what you can and should ask violin and bow makers, and many other ideas for studying, unconventional signs in the score, the right clothing for every kind of concert, the musician's style and the right demeanour in public, and what you need to know to practice the profession without surprises, from drafting a CV to managing work: engagements, contracts, payment and insurance. At the end of the volume you will find a playful (and not so playful!) appendix.

Written with infectious enthusiasm by an expert in the subject, Antonio Bonacchi, and enriched with a valuable collection of illustrations (350 images) this is an essential book for instrumentalists of all levels (students, professionals, amateurs). Because of the variety of topics covered and almost narrative style, it will also be enjoyed by all music lovers and fans of stringed instruments.

Finally, a book which explains how to apply NPL techniques to the psycho-physiological aspects of musical execution. It will help musicians to discover their potentials, and to get the best out of their performances.

Based on a twenty-year-long research, carried out by the authors themselves, Maestro di te stesso suggests a new path of study, which offers students, professionals, music lovers and teachers the most effective strategies to expand one's creative resources.

Through the use of meditations, examples and practical coursework, the musician will be able to develop the right tools to correctly track its own artistic and personal growth.

After reading this publication, the musician will be able to:

- Value his/her personal ability
- Increase his/her attention and concentration
- Rehearse and improve his/her performance
- Overcome performance anxiety and control personal fear
- Fully manage his/her emotions and feelings
- Increase his/her self-esteem
- Define and effectively pursue personal objectives, thus getting rid of prejudice and external influences.

An interview with the famous pianist Aldo Ciccolini completes the volume. He underlines the importance of such themes, based on his sixty-year-long and international experience.
